

Bloggging

The glue that holds IS696 together

Accessing Your Blog

- Your site: <http://learningremix.net/f2006integ/YourUserName>
- Editing posts and altering the look of your site: <http://learningremix.net/mt-f2006integ/mt.cgi>
- Log in with your user name and password
- Seeing the class remix: <http://learningremix.net>

Writing Blog Posts

- Done from <http://learningremix.net/mt-f2006integ/mt.cgi>
 - You should write 5 per week
- Thinks you should always do:
 - Link to other posts
 - Tag your posts with appropriate keywords
 - Use the same keywords as your peers

Blog Post Topics

- Focus on class topics, but write about anything you think relevant
- Specific things
 - Are there things you just don't get?
 - Do you have answers for others?
 - Do you have an opinion or observation?

Trackbacks

- Done as you write your blog posts
- Put a link back to your site on the article you are writing about

Sitemeter

- Sign up for this at sitemeter.com
 - It tracks your blog visitors
- You will need to create a sitemeter widget.
 - We'll do this in class.

Technorati Short Assignment

- Go to <http://technorati.com>
- Claim your blog using the advanced method
- Due date is by beginning of next class
- This is one of your five short assignments

Summary

- Blogging is a key component of this class
- We are going to share knowledge
- Sitemeter lets you know who is visiting
- technorati let's you know who is linking