Call Numbers

Books in Halle Library’s Browsing Collection are arranged by Library of Congress (LC) call numbers. The call number is taped to the lower outside edge of the book’s spine.

The first line contains letters and is read alphabetically.

The second line always is a number and is read as if you were counting.

The third line contains both letters and numbers. They are read alphabetically first and then in decimal numeric order. For example: .A6, .A64, .A7, .B641, etc.

The fourth line is the year the item was published.
